The Christmas Guide

Merry Christmas

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year from everyone at Simply Syndicated. Thank you for a fantastic 2008. I hope we continue to entertain you in 2009.

The Christmas Eve Show

Because we're absolutely insane, and because you people are beginning to feel like close family, Allison and I have decided that we'd like to hold a LIVE podcast on Christmas Eve.

Join us on the Simply Syndicated UStream channel from 11pm GMT, where we'll be taking your calls from around the world and seeing in Christmas as it happens.

We'll also be opening presents live on the show which doesn't put any pressure on us what so ever. Think about that, you worry if you've bought the right thing and then you have to have it opened live on air!

Panic aside, I'm sure it's going to be a fun filled night with lots of capering and christmas things.

I plan on wearing a knitted jumper throughout the show.

Posters

Somebody wrote me an email with a fantastic idea. Actually I think I said it on a show ages ago, but I don't know if the listener in question knew that. Either way it's a brilliant idea.

Here's a quote that I'm making up to give you the general idea...

"Why don't you design a poster that listeners can download, print out, and use to advertise Simply Syndicated?"

Now I write about it, there are a few reasons not to do it. What if people print them out badly and that makes us look bad? What if people put the posters where they shouldn't?

I figure that we might as well give it a go. Leave all that worrying about image to larger companies that have an image to worry about. We just need people to know who we are.

Here's the bit you were waiting for, lets make it a competition. Send your entries to the usual address and you may win a prize. I don't know what the prize is yet, but you'll like it.

Books You Should Read

Over the last couple of weeks we have been appealing for listeners to send in reviews for the Books You Should Read podcast. Unfortunately the response has been somewhat underwhelming, with only one review being submitted in the last couple of months. I repeat the call for submissions but if things continue the way they are I'll call time on Books You Should Read. Don't worry about that, things change, podcasts come and go, and if there's a demand for particular content it will be filled.

Prepare the Night Arrows

There are now about three Night Arrows t-shirts left in the world. When these are gone there won't be any more so if you've been putting it off now is probably the best time to act, as I don't think they're going to be there much longer.

Also, don't forget you can download old episodes of Movies You Should See from our lulu.com store page at <http://www.lulu.com/simplysyndicated> and remember that the downloads are priced much lower than the DVDs if you're looking for a money saving tip.
